Good news for hospital

LEAGUE OF FRIENDS TO DONATE £65K TOWARDS NEW X-RAY EQUIPMENT

AXMINSTER Hospital's League of Friends has agreed to donate £65,000 towards state-of-the-art X-ray equipment.

League members say the upgrade is good news, which should provide reassurance in the town about the hospital's future following the bed closures last year.

A statement issued by League of Friends

Anders Larsson

Chief reporter | anders@viewnews.co.uk

member and spokesperson Ann Veit said: "Following the disastrous news that Seaton Hospital is to lose all its in-patient beds, there is some great news for Axminster Hospital.

"We have been asked by the Royal Devon and Exeter NHS Trust to help fund the replacement of X-ray equipment at the hospital.

"The current machines are old and have become unreliable, with repairs becoming expensive and replacement parts difficult to acquire."

The League agreed to donate £65,000, which equates to 50 per cent of the total cost of equipment.

Existing equipment will be replaced by state-of-the-art digital imaging equipment.

There are many advantages with the new equipment, including:

- Vastly improved images will improve diagnostic opportunities;
- The images are virtually immediately available to clinicians via electronic transfer;
- The radiation emissions are a fraction of those produced by the old equipment, increasing staff and patient safety.

Also, most maintenance can be done remotely by online connection, thus reducing the downtime of equipment.

The League's statement also said: "The doctors and nurses at the medical practice, along with the consultants and specialists from the RD&E are delighted with the news.

"Axminster Hospital is becoming more vibrant than ever as the new equipment will also bring in patients from West Dorset.

"Hopefully this will make everyone feel more secure in the future of our much loved hospital.

"Despite the closure of beds at Axminster, and everyone knows how hard we worked to keep those beds, the League of Friends continues to support the needs of patients and staff at the hospital and health needs of those in the community.

"We thank everyone who continues to support the League and hope you will all continue to do so."

Steve Hudson, Divisional Director – Community Services at the Royal Devon and Exeter

NHS Foundation Trust, said: "We are absolutely delighted with this donation as it will enable us to purchase state-of-the-art equipment and provide a more up to date service for local people.

"We are currently finalising work on choosing the provider for the equipment. Once a decision has been confirmed we expect lead time on the equipment to be approximately 10 weeks.

"There will be a period of closure when the equipment is installed, however we will be providing an alternative X-ray service for Axminster patients at Honiton or Sidmouth Community Hospitals during this time. We would like to thank the Axminster Hospital League of Friends for helping to make this possible."

NEWS FROM AROUND PULMAN'S COUNTRY... East Devon & South Somerset

EDDC plans for housing company

EAST Devon District Council is looking to set-up its own local housing company to play a more significant role in the local housing market and increase housing supply in the area to meet the demand for good quality housing.

The company, which would be wholly owned by the council, could play a key role in delivering new homes to the district's growing population.

It would be financed by the council and any profits would come back to the council.

Other key priorities for the new company would be to improve the quality of rented accommodation across the district, provide housing for sale and shared ownership, and set standards for good housing design and management in the local housing market.

A report setting out the outline business case for the proposal was approved by the council's Cabinet on March 8th.

The report outlines the purpose, legal position and operational considerations of running such a company.

Among the benefits would be the opportunity to buy and let existing homes, including acquiring properties from developers, with the possibility of developing council-owned land or land bought through the open market.

The company would be run as a business by a board of directors.

The report adds: "The company can start small and build over time. Being entirely under the control of the council, we can operate at a pace that we are comfortable with, managing risk and exploring opportunity for development that are viable and provide a return on our investment."

EDDC has a wealth of experience in housing and is one of the reducing number of councils in the country which still manages its own council housing stock of around 4,200 properties.

This experience will assist in the operation of the company, although it is recognised that it will need to operate on commercial terms free from many of the local government restrictions.

Cllr Jill Elson, EDDC's Portfolio holder for homes and communities, said: "This presents a wonderful opportunity for the council to play a more active part in the local housing market."

"We have researched the proposal carefully and fully, looked at the risks and rewards, and decided that the local housing company model is a suitable model for the council to deliver its housing ambitions."

"We are seeing high levels of demand for housing in the area and see this as a way of increasing supply consistent with the government's growth agenda."

The council will now prepare an initial business plan, identify the first projects and report back to the council.

Warning over council tax scam

RESIDENTS across South Somerset and East Devon are being warned to be wary of Council Tax scams that may be prevalent in the next few weeks as bills start to be delivered to households.

The offer to reduce your Council Tax banding, reduce your monthly payments or claim money back for a small fee may sound enticing, but it's more than likely that you have been contacted by a scammer who is only interested in getting money or your bank details out of you.

One scam currently in operation that has been highlighted to South Somerset District Council asks for you to confirm your bank details in an email to receive a refund for your previous year's Council Tax bill.

The email even gives a telephone number to call which is a direct line to the Council Tax Team at Oldham Council, making it appear even more genuine.

There are key things to check when you receive communication about Council Tax:

- When writing to you, District Councils will address the letter directly to you rather than to 'the occupier' or 'sir/madam';
- Councils will never ask for your bank account details on the phone or via email, to refund overpaid council tax.

Many scams involve asking for a fee to see if your Council Tax banding can be lowered. This is a service that can be done for free.

Council Tax bands are set by the Valuation Office Agency and can only be changed under certain conditions. Details can be found at www.gov.uk/council-tax-appeals.

Ian Potter, Revenues Manager at South Somerset District Council said: "Many scams are highlighted to the council and we try to inform residents when they are brought to our attention because ultimately it's you, the resident, who may lose out."

"If you are struggling to pay your Council Tax bill and need help, speak with a member of the Council Tax Team on 01935 462462 who will be able to offer help and advice."

Councillor Peter Seib, Portfolio Holder for Finance & Legal Services at SSDC added: "If you are due a refund of overpaid Council Tax we will do this automatically."

"You can check your Council Tax band with the Valuation Office for free. In either case don't let a scammer con you."

Hospital beds: Health and Wellbeing Scrutiny Committee question decision

DEVON County Council's Health and Wellbeing Scrutiny Committee has asked NEW Devon Clinical Commissioning Group to come back with assurances regarding the CCG's decision to reduce the number of community hospital beds in East Devon.

After holding a public consultation, the CCG announced a decision to reduce the number of community hospital beds in East Devon from 143 to 72. But members of the independent scrutiny committee felt that consultation was flawed, and that the CCG's decision was not in the interests of the health service in the area.

Following discussion at its meeting last week, the committee settled on a list of assurances that it has now asked of the CCG, with the suggestion that unless adequate responses are forthcoming within 28 days of official notification of the committee's request, the committee could refer the matter to the Secretary of State for Health, Jeremy Hunt.

Those assurances include a clearer explanation of what care at home – the alternative to care in community hospitals – will look like, following concerns that there may not be adequate care available in people's homes.

And given staffing shortages within the NHS and significant challenges for adult social care, the committee wants to know how many more staff are required to make the new model of care work.

There was concern among the committee regarding a new government direction coming into effect next month, that will require health trusts to prove that there is sufficient alternative care provision, before any hospital beds are lost.

And, the committee resolved, there is not a clear plan from the CCG about the future of the hospital buildings that have lost their beds, and that are now in the ownership of NHS Property Services.

Councillor Richard Westlake, the chairman of the cross-party Health and Wellbeing Scrutiny Committee, said: "We believe that the CCG's recent decision requires further thought, and we have invited them to give us assurances regarding a number of concerns highlighted by the committee.

"The consultation, we believe, was flawed in that it excluded Okehampton and Honiton hospitals from the consultation. We also do not believe that the decision as it stands is in the best interests of the health service in the area, considering the significant pressures on hospitals, such as the Royal Devon and Exeter, for hospital beds."

● County councillor Claire Wright will speak on the situation at a public meeting on Saturday, March 18th at Colyford Memorial Hall, from 4:30pm. The event has been organised by East Devon Alliance.

Drunk learner driver bit police officer

A LEARNER driver from Yeovil was caught drunk at the wheel – then bit a police officer, a court has heard.

Christopher Exance was taken into custody but then began hurling abuse at officers,

He was told to stop swearing and while a female officer was holding his head to stop him banging it he bit her forearm, Yeovil Magistrates Court heard.

The officer said in a statement: "It was complete spite and occurred while I was giving him first aid and was not trying to do anything more than to look after him."

Exance, 19, of Yeovil, pleaded guilty to driving after consuming excess alcohol, without insurance and not in accordance with a licence on February 12th.

MP welcomes social care boost

EAST Devon MP, Sir Hugo Swire, has welcomed the Government's decision to plough billions of pounds extra into the social care system saying it will mitigate the loss of hospital beds in Devon.

As part of the Budget announced last week, Chancellor Philip Hammond announced that there would be £2billion of additional grant funding for social care over the next three years, with £1bn available in 2017-18.

Mr Hammond says the additional funding will allow local authorities to 'act now' to commission care packages.

Over the past months Sir Hugo has led calls for greater social care funding. He was part of a cross-party delegation of MPs which recently met with the Prime Minister, Theresa May, to discuss social care.

He has also made the case for more funding on numerous occasions in the House of Commons and most recently last week when he questioned Treasury ministers on the subject.

Sir Hugo said: "I have been proud to be part of the parliamentary campaign for more social care spending and I pay tribute to my colleagues from across the political spectrum for making the case to Government so effectively."

"An extra £2bn over the next three years will alleviate much of this pressure."

More schoolchildren get first choice

MORE Devon children have applied for a place at secondary school this September with the county council offering nearly 99 per cent of families one of their three preferences.

In all, 95.8 per cent of the families who applied to Devon County Council have been offered their first preference school with 2.8 per cent allocated their second preference and 0.2 per cent their third preference.

This means a total of 98.8

per cent of applicants were offered one of their three preferences.

The county council received 6,949 applicants from Devon pupils for a place at secondary school in September compared with 6,706 last year.

Devon's cabinet member for schools, James McInnes, said: "It is very gratifying that we have been able to accommodate nearly every child in one of their three preferred schools."

"It is a testament to the hard work of our admissions and school organisation teams and the partnership and co-operation we have received from the heads and governors of Devon's secondary schools.

"These are obviously early statistics and are quite likely to improve even more before September as appeals are heard and other factors are taken into account, such as parents not taking up places they have been offered."

SOHS chairman: beds battle not lost

THE chairman of the Save our Hospital Services, Honiton Steering Group, Gillian Pritchett says "they haven't lost the battle" after the CCG agreed to remove inpatient beds from Honiton hospital.

Ms Pritchett said: "The steering group were very concerned that Honiton Hospital had not been formally included in the consultation process at the outset and we are unconvinced that serious consideration was given to retaining beds at Honiton Hospital – despite a petition with over 3,000 signatures and the countless feedback forms and letters that were sent in by concerned residents."

"We may have lost this skirmish but we haven't yet lost the battle. With the escalating pressures on acute hospitals; the paucity of care available in the community and the groundswell of evidence up and down the country that community hospitals are needed we remain hopeful that the CCG decision can be overturned."

The steering group is calling for everyone to be outside Honiton Hospital at 11am on April 1st – wearing red, as lines will be forming around hospitals in Devon on Red Lines Day.

Ms Pritchett added: "This doesn't just send a message to the media and the CCG, it also shows the wonderful hospital staff that they have strong public support."

SWITCH group celebrates fifth anniversary

THE Millwey SWITCH group in Axminster celebrated its fifth anniversary by throwing a special party at the community centre, with friends and supporters invited to join in the fun.

SWITCH groups are run by East Devon District Council (EDDC), aimed at young people and their families and organise youth clubs, fun days and community festivals.

EDDC community development workers Victoria Robinson, Mark Gerry and Deirdre Ryan (who organise the group) were joined by EDDC countryside ranger Penny Evans.

Anna Arroussi came from EDDC's Thelma Hulbert Gallery in Honiton and Helen Phillips and Bernadette Johnson represented local charity HALFF.

Deputy EDDC leader Andrew Moulding, ward member Ian Hall and Axminster mayor Paul Hayward also attended.

Councillor Hall said: "I was overjoyed to be invited to the Millwey Rise SWITCH fifth birthday party and I felt very honoured to be asked to cut the cake.

"I am very aware of the good work carried out by SWITCH and at times I have been lucky enough to have been involved with SWITCH's summer Community Days.

"SWITCH has been a great benefit to all who have attended over the years, which in turn helps put good roots down for the future community.

"Arts and crafts are often taught along with cooking and it's good for young people to be out there doing educational activities in a safe environment.

"I truly believe that organisations like SWITCH are the glue that helps stick communities together."

EDDC Community Development Worker Victoria Robinson said: "It has been a great experience working with the young people of Millwey over the past five years, seeing them grow and develop.

"The fact that older members still pop in to say 'hello' shows, I think, that we have succeeded in our aim of providing safe spaces and building relationships with our young tenants.

"We have also had a lot of fun and I would like to thank all the teams and agencies who have given us support over the years and helped to make the club a good place to be.

"I'm looking forward to the next five. It was lovely to look at old pictures and videos and to remember all the things we have done together."

EDDC councillor and portfolio holder for sustainable homes and communities, Jill Elson, said: "The success of our community development workers can be seen at Millwey Rise with the celebration of five years of SWITCH activity at the community centre.

"The SWITCH project has definitely improved the quality of life for young people and their families, introducing them to new skills, including how to use a computer to access information and services, how to live on a low income and how to cook healthy family meals.

"This is all excellent work and long may it continue."

Family raising funds for cat killer reward money

THE Axminster family whose cat had to be put down after being shot with an air rifle has started a fundraising campaign.

Their idea is to raise £500, which will be paid to anyone providing information leading to a successful prosecution.

As reported last week, Bex, Sean and Sophia Scotland, pictured, came home to find their cat Belle in pain on February 28th.

An X-ray at Coombefield Veterinary Hospital showed a pellet had gone into the cat's spine, so she had to be put down.

The family has since started an online fundraising campaign named Justice for Belle.

The Scotlands said: "We are raising money to offer as a reward for information.

"If, for any reason, nobody is prosecuted, all money raised will go to Ferne Animal Sanctuary, near Wambrook."

Full details and a sponsorship link are available at www.justgiving.com/crowdfunding/justiceforbelle

Anyone with information is asked to call police on 101 and quote reference CR/015051/17.

Axminster Town Council

Chairman's Annual report March 2017

SINCE being elected as Mayor in May 2016, the months have flown past with alarming rapidity. I have been honoured to represent the Town Council, and the Town, on a wide variety of occasions from Family Fun days, to Festive Friday, from Chard's Civic Ceremony to Costa Coffee launches; every event a delight and a wonderful opportunity to promote the name of Axminster far and wide and to meet those who make our town such a fantastic place to work, rest and play (please excuse an old Slough expression).

My Mayoral year started with the arrival of two new town councillors, Sara and Ian, but has sadly ended with the loss of the longest serving member of our Council, Cllr. Joy Hull, who passed away in February. It would take far more than half a page to adequately convey all that Joy did for the town during her many years of public service but her memory will live on in our hearts and minds as we remember her outstanding contribution to the fabric, and history, of Axminster. Our condolences to her husband, Douglas, and their family.

Your Town Council exists to represent everyone in the town and strives to provide the very best facilities for all our residents; each Councillor is a unpaid volunteer, working together with others as a single body, and ably supported by the staff at the Guildhall and other Council buildings around town.

We have a new Town Council website (www.axminstertowncouncil.gov.uk) which I would encourage all parishioners to visit, and bookmark, which aims to be a single-point of access for all council services and facilities. That said, the Council's main offices at the Guildhall are open as per published hours and you are guaranteed a warm welcome if the answer you seek cannot be found "online".

In terms of development matters, the planning committee, our clerk and other members of Council, spent an inordinate amount of time considering applications submitted throughout the parish catchment area, month in, month out. From reviewing replacement bay windows to assessing entire housing estates, your Council acts as the town's gatekeeper and watchdog; attempting to balance the need for additional housing to accommodate local need, and allowing sensible, reasonable growth, against the sometimes overwhelming urge of applicants to build on every acre, every square foot of land, often to the detriment of the town's unique geography and aging infrastructure. It is perhaps the aspect of council business that frustrates councillors, staff and public alike; whatever the decision we make, someone will always disagree with our views!

Axminster does face a sustained period of developmental growth – one of the largest in the district – which must be matched by a commensurate increase in infrastructure provision to ensure that all the new people coming to live in Axminster (but also those already living here) have affordable and sustainable access to health-care, social care, education, employment and retail opportunities, not to mention a transport system able to cope with this seemingly endless rise in population and vehicles, of every shape and size. The Town Council has been working with EDDC to create a Neighbourhood Plan, a policy document that will take on board all of the challenges that the town faces over the next 10-20 years and match these with the needs of our residents, both old and new.

In terms of finances, Axminster is no different to every other small local authority in this part of the world, be that large town, or small parish council. Historically underfunded in relation to other parts of the country, Devon County Council is being obliged to constantly review the services it can provide within the limits of the funding it receives from national government. The same applies to East Devon District Council. Both of these higher authorities deliver different services, and you will shortly be receiving your annual Council Tax statements through the post which will contain an explanatory booklet outlining how much they intend to spend and highlighting where service provision is to be reduced or withdrawn.

Axminster Town Council has been assessing the financial forecasts sent down from above since Autumn last year and councillors agreed in January, by a large majority, to make allowance within our own budget and precept figures for the coming year so that we can both maintain the services that the Town Council provides presently but also deliver more for our residents in terms of facilities, amenities and projects throughout the entire parish. However, like your own household financial budgets, these extra things do not come free, and the council has therefore decided to raise our part of the council tax bill – known as the "precept" – by just under £16 per year or 30 pence per week for a Band "D" property. We appreciate that any increase is hard felt by those whose budgets are already squeezed but we have a duty to provide certain services and we would not want to fall short or fail to deliver in these areas.

However, mindful of this fiscal increase at a time when household finances are stretched throughout the town, councillors recognised that the Town Council does hold a significant sum in reserve, accrued after many years of prudent spending, and so it was further agreed by councillors that a programme of works be undertaken throughout the coming years to modernise and upgrade a large number of our publicly owned buildings, to provide new amenities around the town for all to enjoy but also to create a rolling "5 year" Town Improvement Fund which can be drawn upon as and when required in the future, so as to limit further potential local council tax increases. Our town is growing. It is getting bigger every day and so the demands on your council will grow too. We have planned sensibly, budgeted prudently and invested wisely. My thanks go to all members of the relevant committees who gave up a huge amount of time to prepare our financial budget and to all the staff of the council who will put these plans into action.

The world is a far different place, even to that of a mere 10 years ago. Axminster is no exception. Technology moves along at an astonishing rate and all of us, including the Council, must follow suit or be left behind, possibly missing out. You may not agree or approve, but that is the harsh reality of modern life. Your council is adapting to changes in the way people work, how we spend our leisure time and how we interact with the world around us. From websites, to emails; from Dropboxes to The Cloud, the manner in which we communicate constantly evolves. Your council meets regularly, on the second Monday of each month at the Guildhall, and members of the public are actively encouraged to come along, to see who represents you, to see how we are spending your tax pound in the way we believe provides maximum benefit for each and every citizen of the town; young and old, rich and poor, from "here" or from "away". Your council serves you all equally and we welcome you to come along and see for yourself what we do in your name.

Please have a browse around our website. Read the minutes of our meetings. Participate, ask questions, challenge what we do. The more we know about what you – the people who ultimately foot the bill – want, the better we can deliver the services that you demand, that you need and that you all benefit from. If I can help in any way possible, please get in touch. My details, along with all other councillors, are on the website but also available via the Town Council offices.

Finally, may I invite you all to come along next Monday (20th February) to the Guildhall for the Annual Parish Meeting where reports on the last year will be provided by a number of local representatives, and the public will, as always, have a chance to ask questions of your Council and Councillors. I hope to see a great many of you there.

Town comes alive for annual Grizzly

SEATON was heaving during Grizzly weekend as the 30th anniversary of the race was celebrated.

Saturday's Grizfest featured an "outstanding afternoon of running" as children and youths set the scene and challenge for their elders for Sunday.

On the starting line for the Fun Run were 314 runners, mainly primary school children. First home was Axe Valley Runner's (AVR) Sam Eyre covering the 2k in a mere eight minutes.

Esme Huntley of Charmouth Primary crossed the line as first girl.

The Junior Grizzly, a 4k race, featured 47 runners and was won by last year's champion, Thomas Rehal of Blackwater Junior Tri Club. AVR's Caitlin Smith finished as first girl.

Dave Mutter, AVR spokesman, said: "Many thanks to all the helpers and parents who generated a great atmosphere."

AVR members and local mums Amy Catley, Emma Grigg, Hayley Eate, Michelle Atkins, Laura Kerr and Suzy Eul-Brown combined running the Grizzly with fundraising.

New race director Tony Smith was very pleased with the way Sunday went and gives his grateful thanks to all who gave their time up freely.

He said: "Thanks to our main sponsors, East Devon Sports Therapy and General Injury Clinic, who helped on the day by massaging runners' wobbly legs and also to Scimitar Sportswear and Photo-fit.net.

"Thanks also to all who helped run this massive event, giving their time freely in a great act of community spirit.

"Of course, a special mention to all the landowners for allowing us to run over their often private land and finally a massive thanks to all spectators that thronged the course, encouraging the runners with gusto. Here's to the 31st Grizzly next year."

Big local support for NHS rally in London

EAST Devon was well represented at the recent rally in London, calling on the Government to stop the privatisation of the NHS.

Coachloads of residents travelled up to London on March 4th to join the crowds of 250,000 campaigners with what the national press is calling 'one of the biggest NHS rallies in history'.

East Devon Alliance helped to provide the coaches and among those who travelled up were district councillors Cathy Gardener and Val Ranger, along with the Mayor of Axminster, Cllr Paul Hayward.

EDA members were also joined by other concerned members of the public and campaigners for Save Our Hospital Services (SOHS).

A spokesperson for EDA said: "Due to the huge numbers there was some delay until the procession to Parliament Square could begin and, for the same reason, it took a full three hours' walk to arrive at Big Ben.

"On the way, SOHS led the chants outside Downing Street, et, enthusiastically echoed by the crowds: 'Hey, Hey, Theresa May, How many beds have you cut today?'

"Throughout the event, a pervading mood of sincerity, calm determination, and decency, left the police on duty notably friendly and relaxed."

Band's first rehearsal is next week

EAST Devon Daytime Band's first rehearsal has been arranged for 9.30am to 11.30am on Wednesday, March 22nd in Tipton St John Community Hall.

The brass band has been recruiting for a while, and chairman Trevor Heynes said: "I am delighted to announce that we are now able to move on with this exciting new brass band and the inaugural rehearsal.

"We are a friendly and enthusiastic group of players.

"Any interested brass players will be warmly welcomed and should contact me on 01395 708766 or trevor.heynes@gmail.com"

Flipping good fun at Musbury Primary School

FOOD and books have kept pupils at Musbury Primary School busy.

On February 28th they enjoyed finding out about Shrove Tuesday and why we get to eat pancakes.

They finished off the day with pancake races in the playground.

A school spokesperson said: "All the children had a pancake - donated by Co-op - to eat, though not the ones that ended up on the floor!"

Having finished with the pancakes, the children got ready for World Book Day about a week later, attending school dressed as characters from books (far right).

Children pick their favourite design for Colyford play park

LOCAL children from Colyford have chosen the design for an eagerly-anticipated play area in the village.

Despite the size of Colyford - 707 people are on the electoral roll - it doesn't have a public play area and Colyton Parish Council and East Devon District Council have been hoping to provide a facility for children for years.

The two councils have been working closely together to spend £24,000 on creating the play area. A total of £22,300 of this money has been contributed by developers through Section 106 funding for play which is given for every new home created in the parish. This is collected by East Devon District Council, which involves the community in how it spends this money. The remaining £1,700 has come from the parish council.

Children from the village were asked to come up with ideas for what they wanted to be able to do in the play area and a design brief was developed. Three companies put forward designs based on the activities that the children were asking for and the youngsters voted for their favourite at a free family theatre event at the Memorial Hall. The winning design was from LarsLaj (pictured right).

Colyton Parish Council has spent more than three years trying to identify a site to provide a play area in the village itself. They explored all sorts of options that weren't possible for one reason or another, but now thanks to land offered by parish councillor Colin Pady, a solution has been found and the new play area will soon be installed in next to Colyton Grammar School.

The design has been ratified by both councils.

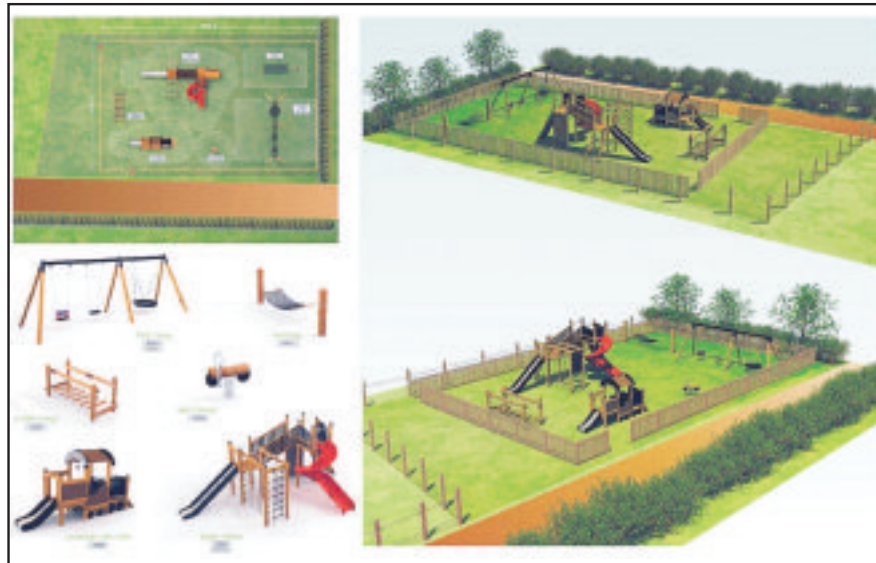

Councillor Iain Chubb, East Devon District Council's Cabinet member for the environment, said: "I'm always delighted to see play areas go in around the district that the local children and young people have helped design and then chosen.

"We have been using this approach since 2008, working in partnership with town and parish councils and involving the local community, and it always ends up with great results."

Councillor Andrew Parr, chairman of Colyton Parish Council, added: "Colyton Parish Council are very pleased that at last the children of Colyford have got a play area.

"It has taken several years to achieve this and we are very grateful to the Pady family for making the land available and also to EDDC for the funding through the S106 scheme."

Plans submitted for micro-brewery in Colyton

COLYTON could have its own micro-brewery if a planning application is approved.

A planning application has been submitted to East Devon District Council, requesting permission to change the use of unit 6A Colyton Business Park - formerly a bike/motorbike shop - to a micro-brewery with a supporting tap room and shop.

The application has been submitted by Darkplace Brewery, based in Musbury.

A supporting statement from the application said: "The principal use of the premises will be the manufacture and packaging of beer, as well as association administration work. All noise and odour-causing production activities will be conducted only during standard working hours, Monday to Friday."

It added that they hoped to license the property and open to the public 10am to 5pm Monday to Friday, with occasional opening on Friday nights and Saturday and Sunday afternoons for corporate and promotional events.

The statement added: "Craft beer has become very popular in the beer market; while people are drinking less overall, craft beer sales have increased, indicating a change in market tastes shifting from quantity to quality, from drinking to get drunk to drinking to experience interesting and well-crafted tastes.

"Craft beer drinkers seek out new breweries and new beers to try, often taking special care to visit the breweries in question. We feel that by nurturing a craft beer community, we can be an important part of the tourism industry and bring visitors to East Devon."

The full application can be found on East Devon District Council's website at <http://bit.ly/2mBeJlZ>

Furore over Councillor Taylor

■ I HAVE known and worked with a great number of councillors in my time but never one that was so prepared to pursue a vendetta against his own Town Clerk, Council and council taxpayers.

This member's complaint could and should have been settled amicably but, as the Judge stated, the member "was seeking some reason to continue with his proceedings when there was no real purpose in doing so".

This appalling saga has tested the patience of officers, members and the public well beyond reasonable limits at a time when Honiton was faced with many other important issues including the loss of all its hospital beds. The member should consider his position.

I urge all members including our new councillors, to learn from this tragic waste of money and time, look to the future, avoid being drawn into a self-destructive vortex and tackle the many real issues facing our community.

TONY SIMPSON,
Honiton

.....

■ REF: Pulman's Honiton, March 7th

1. Your front page 'leader' very rightly highlighted the appalling waste of money that is likely to result from the judicial review saga.

2. The problem starts with the EDDC Standards Sub-committee. This committee is not a court of law but, as other councils point out, 'the intention of the procedure is to ensure that the rules of natural justice are applied and a fair hearing achieved'. A pity that EDDC did not decide to do the same. Instead EDDC decided to have a Chilcot style investigation - where there was never any intention of imposing sanctions on Tony Blair nor enhancing his reputation - and the Rules of Evidence did not apply.

3. Had the Complaint from Honiton been heard in a civil court then the Rules of Evidence would have been applied and the EDDC Standards Committee should have, in fairness to all involved done the same. The result would have been about a three page Summary of Evidence supported by three witness statements, and would have started from early 2015 and introduced the factors leading up to the events of late 2015/2016.

4. From the Summary of Evidence it then becomes blindingly obvious that the defendant had no case to answer. The tragedy of all of this is that the judicial review should never have been required in the first place and the waste of funds was avoidable.

R NIX,
Honiton

■ I AM a Honiton town councillor and as is required I state that the views below are my own and not necessarily those of Honiton Town Council.

My comments relate to your headline front page article of Tuesday, March 7th:

● It is not proper for me to comment on the Judicial Review as legal issues are still ongoing but I reserve the right to do so at a future date.

● I saw the (anonymous) website which purported to be about the local town council election but in fact was a platform to attack Councillor Taylor and draw other councillors into this discussion.

● I sought unofficial advice from a 'higher' council as I and those I love are greatly upset by the inferences about me and other councillors within that website.

● The unofficial advice I received back was that this is 'internet trolling at its worst' and the best thing to do was ignore it. I resolved so to do.

● However Pulman's View From Honiton then published a link to this 'anonymous' website on its front page, so now any reader can read the mixture of truths/falsehoods/personal opinions and allegations of the anonymous author.

● For this reason I wish to state publicly that there is no such thing as a Taylor support group. There are several councillors whose views coincide with this on various serious financial matters and those councillors have voted in council accordingly, always requesting a recorded vote so that the public can see that we stand by our views. This allegation of a 'support group' on the website is just one of the many falsehoods with which this website is peppered.

● I have only sent this letter to the paper today (March 9th) as today is election day and I have no wish to try to influence voting in any way. The same cannot be said for the anonymous website which was set up.

JILL McNALLY,
Honiton

■ I AM a serving Honiton Town councillor, however I wish to make it clear I am not writing on behalf of the town council or a councillor but only expressing my personal views, as a resident and taxpayer of Honiton.

I am extremely disappointed that a selective group, working to what appear personal agendas, are using the local press to publicise a troll website in order to influence a by-election and to discredit Councillor Dr John Taylor, who I know to be a compulsively honest man who has always worked hard for what he considers to be in the best interest of Honiton, the taxpayers, and above all strongly believes in transparency when it comes to spending of public money.

I also wish to point out the committee did not look or take into consideration all the evidence provided for the hearing by Cllr Taylor and his solicitors in his defence.

The committee only found Cllr Taylor guilty of showing disrespect to the town clerk because he did not state 'confidential' on his letter to a ward member: for this oversight the committee recommended Cllr Taylor attend councillor training and recommended the hearing be publicised.

Further sanctions imposed by 14 Honiton town councillors, who used their majority vote and acted against officers' advice, were deemed as unlawful by the judge, who strongly criticised both the town council and Cllr Taylor as having acted recklessly, with both sides having been encouraged to do so by their legal representatives: as such Cllr Taylor won his case.

The town council has now appointed a working group to look into the council's finances over the past five years and the £98,000 Public Works Loan Board loan finances will be fully investigated by the working group: I expect for the findings to be publicised in the best interests of transparency.

JOHN ZARCZYNSKI,
Honiton

■ ALTHOUGH it notes concerns about the actions of Councillor John Taylor, Pulman's View From Honiton (March 7th, 2017) is incomplete in two important ways:

First, although Councillor Taylor won the review in respect of Honiton Town Council, there is no mention of the material issues against Councillor Taylor which the presiding judge upheld, namely: 'The decision of East Devon both as to breach and the sanctions it recommended was lawful' (Mr Justice Edis, Approved Judgment, para 44). This judgment also notes (para 42) that Councillor Taylor accused the Town Clerk of criminal conduct without 'the slightest justification for doing so' and that this was a 'very serious error of judgment'. An accusation of this kind is a very serious matter, and, if he hasn't done so, Councillor Taylor should apologise without reservation, publicly and immediately.

Second, Pulman's neglects to mention that Honiton Town Council is responsible for costs only for the period of the case prior to March 19th 2016 (a small proportion of the whole case).

After that time, all costs were awarded against Councillor Taylor, and he is thus responsible for both Council costs and his own from this time (Mr Justice Edis, Costs Judgment, para 28). Given the likely amount of these costs, and the comments of Judge Edis regarding Councillor Taylor's conduct, residents of Honiton and East Devon should press Honiton Town Council and EDDC to pursue Councillor Taylor for the payment of the proportion of Council costs for which he is responsible in full in a timely manner.

I urge readers to follow Marjorie-Anne Howe's suggestion (Letters, Pulman's February 28th) and read the actual finding in this case.

East Devon hospital bed closures: readers' views

■ THE Thursday before last, I watched as an unselected group of medical professionals voted to betray Axminster for the second time, but also to betray the residents of Seaton, Honiton and every single other resident in the Eastern East Devon area – more than 25,000 people – by voting unanimously, after a questionable and, some-might-say, flawed consultation exercise costing millions of pounds, to close Seaton and Honiton hospitals (and by close, I mean, of course, remove their community in-patient beds).

They chose instead, after much deliberation and earnest debate, to keep Sidmouth and Exmouth units open, two hospitals a mere nine miles apart, on the basis that they represented better value to the elderly population of Sidmouth, and the larger population centre of Exmouth.

Let me say, I am happy for those communities. Please cherish what you have. But do not think that this is a victory for your town. Quite the opposite; it is a loss for us all.

What this means, in reality, is that someone from Hawkchurch wanting to visit their relatives in Sidmouth now faces a 40-mile round

■ THE CCG's decision to close the beds in Seaton Hospital makes a travesty of the public consultation. Far and away more people supported the Seaton option than any of the other options.

The only reason given by the CCG is that Sidmouth is larger than Seaton and there are more old people there. Both these facts were known by everyone before the consultation started. In any case, Seaton Hospital serves the whole Axe Valley since Axminster's beds were closed.

Everyone in Seaton and the surrounding area must now unite, regardless of any political differences, to demand that the CCG rescind this decision. I trust that there will soon be a meeting of Seaton Town Council to discuss the way forward.

MARTIN SHAW,

prospective Independent East Alliance candidate for Seaton and Colyton trip; £70 or more by taxi, and with no direct public transport timetable. By bus, via Axminster and Seaton, takes over four hours, and would leave only an hour for the visit, in order to catch the last connection home again. What this means, in reality, is more patients spending days without visitors, miles from their loved ones and friends.

This is the end result of the so-called "Success Regime" project. Successful for whom, you might ask? Well, it certainly was successful for the highly paid board of directors, the senior management team and the hired-in consultant companies.

The press release announcing the decision was issued within minutes of the vote, and it wasn't a three line memo either; no, it was a full two pages long, emailed out within 10 minutes of the vote.

So, either someone types really fast at the CCG Press Office, or it was already prepared, ready to go, even whilst board members were wringing their hands over this difficult decision; objectively, and without prejudice. We will never know the truth. And perhaps we shouldn't ask. For the truth hurts.

I would hope that the Mayors of Honiton and Seaton join me in objecting to this decision. Join me in objecting to the fact that local communities were forced to fight against each other, in a bid to save their local facilities, and join me in doubting the validity, efficiency and necessity of such an expensive consultation process, which ultimately was ignored in the face of self-evident facts that could have been discovered by a Google search in 10 minutes by the office apprentice at a cost of tuppence ha'penny.

Axminster has been betrayed. Honiton has been betrayed. So has Seaton. And so have each and everyone of us who pay taxes, and who paid taxes for decades, in the naïve hope that this would afford us the right to decent, dignified and local healthcare in our communities. Some hope. No hope.

PAUL HAYWARD,
Axminster

■ ON November 8th last year the View From reported my asking Neil Parish MP, in front of a 300-strong crowd at Seaton Town Hall, to vote against his government if the Chancellor failed to provide sufficient funding for Devon's health and social care. He said, and I quote your report: "I'm hopeful that we can get them to give some ground, so therefore it won't put me in the position to vote against the government – but if they don't budge then you might find me in the other lobby".

Now is the time for Mr Parish to make good on that assertion. He stood on an 'NHS Safe Under The Conservatives banner' in 2015. Yet before and after that he has voted for every piece of legislation and every budget announcement bleeding the NHS dry and forcing it towards marketisation and the eager hands of the private health insurance lobby. Now he reacts to the closures of beds at Seaton and Honiton last week with more big promises about holding the CCGs "feet to the fire".

No, Mr Parish, you need to stop blaming bureaucrats doing your party's dirty work, bypass the impotent Jeremy Hunt, summon up real courage rather than hot air, and demand to tell Philip Hammond and Theresa May that if they still refuse to fund the NHS and social care properly you will resign as a Conservative and become independent. If you have the honour to do that I will campaign for you in 2020. If not, I will stand against you.

PAUL ARNOTT,
East Devon Alliance

■ HONITON County Councillor and East Devon District Councillor Paul Diviani declared himself a "passionate supporter of the NHS system" on the front page of your newspaper on 28th February. So passionate that he didn't bother to attend meetings in Honiton, in the town he represents, about Honiton Hospital bed closures. So supportive that he voted against a motion that would suspend the consultation process so that Honiton Hospital could be included in that process. If that is his idea of passion and support then he needs to get out more and speak to those in Honiton who are really supporting with passion the NHS and fighting against the ap-

■ THEY materialised, without election, from nowhere. They lengthened their title to the pompous NHS Northern, Eastern and Western New Devon Clinical Commissioning Group. Their work clearly consists in decommissioning our much-needed community hospitals. If their lack of scruple was not previously obvious it is now.

Having vandalised Axminster, and decided that Seaton would serve the Axe Valley alone, they have now ruled that Seaton must lose its beds. There may be some temporary satisfaction in Sidmouth that they are spared. But look out, you will probably be next, subject to what our MP, Neil Parish, may rightly label as another "sham" consultation.

Recent reporting of the beds issue has exposed a couple of names, Dr Tim Burke (chairperson) and Dr David Jenner. They must know that their favoured alternative to hospitals, nursing the frail and sick in their own homes, may be liked by the Health Secretary, who thinks it will save money if not lives. But it cannot possibly be made to work as quickly as needed.

We who live here could possibly feel better for a while if we showed our anger, made banners and marched on... where? We do not even know where the commissioners have their hideaway. Underground somewhere in the deepest part of what they would probably call 'Middle Devonshire'?

SEAN DAY-LEWIS,
Colyton

palling CCG consultation process which could result in bed closures in our town hospital.

Come the next local elections and should Paul Diviani's name be on the ballot papers, I passionately hope the electorate remember his total lack of commitment to protect Honiton Hospital beds at its greatest time of need and do not support his re-election.

Freedom of speech

EXETER AND DISTRICT ENGLISH SPEAKING UNION: Sir Steven Smith FAcSS FRSA, the Vice Chancellor at the University of Exeter, gave a fascinating and thought-provoking talk on a very topical subject: The Freedom of Speech.

For most of his career Sir Steve has been heavily involved with International Studies. He was only the second non-American to become the President of The International Studies Association. He is a prolific author of books and academic papers and has lectured around the world.

Sir Steve was an excellent speaker to give members a view on freedom of speech in the academic world at The University of Exeter and other institutions. In the past, universities have provided a safe haven for freedom of speech but, sadly, this is no longer the case with nine out of ten universities reporting in a survey that freedom of speech was restricted or endangered.

The changed political atmosphere, the rise in terrorism and Brexit have only served to enhance some of the complexities. Universities have to spend a lot of time and effort ensuring that a balanced view is presented. However, as we have seen in the news, especially post the Brexit vote, some students have become much exercised, verbally and sometimes physically, involved with these issues. There can be disruption to learning and it can lead to a reduction of the academic safe haven role that the universities provide, to discuss and exchange ideas.

The next event for Exeter and District ESU is a Lunch Event on March 15th. Bel Mooney has had to postpone her planned March visit and will now speak in September. The speaker in March will be Chris Parsons of the Landworks charity which works with prisoners after their release from prison.

Anyone interested in attending Exeter ESU events or becoming a member should contact the Membership Secretary Margaret Guyver on 01392 491898.

SIR Steve Smith

Probus club meetings

AXMINSTER & DISTRICT: The March meeting took the form of the 40th AGM. The 'catchment area' of the club has always extended quite widely and, to make this more obvious, a decision was taken to amend its name to 'Axminster & District Probus Club'.

David Ferguson, of Culmstock, passed the chairman's collar - pictured - to Eddie Sharman from Honiton (which has its own club). The Secretary remains Paul Martin of Chardstock and long-serving Treasurer Bill Blissitt of Thorncombe accepted the additional honour of becoming President for the next two years.

With AGM business completed, members prepared to enjoy a talk by member Reg German who had had a long career in the rubber industry. But an imperfect amplification system meant that it was not picked up by a number of members - the secretary hopes to e-mail Reg's script to them shortly!

The Axminster & District Probus Club for retired and semi-retired business and professional men meets in a private room at the A35 Pit Stop, Gammons Hill, Kilmington on the first Tuesday of each month. Prospective members always welcome. For further information ring 01460 220528.

SEATON: An excellent presentation was given by Helena Williams (the wife of a member) on her visit to Nepal.

A remote country with eight of the 10 highest mountains in the world, 100 different languages and the birthplace of Buddha.

Fifty per cent of the population is malnourished with most people being five feet tall or less. Despite the lack of proper sanitation, refuse disposal and proper roads, the population appears extremely content.

For details on joining the club please contact Steve Lord on 01297 21872 or visit the website: www.seatonprobus.co.uk

Send your club or village reports to Francesca Evans at: Pulman's View From Newspapers, Unit 3 St Michael's Business Centre, Church Street, Lyme Regis, Dorset DT7 3EA or email francesca@viewnews.co.uk

COLYFORD: At the March meeting, Anne Stobart, a professional medical herbalist and researcher, gave members 'food for thought'. She indicated how numerous plants, herbs and trees can be used for a variety of ailments, explaining the principles behind herb teas and tinctures, and spoke about their decorative use in gardens.

A team of four came fourth in the area round of February's County Quiz. During tea members bought tickets for the local 'group' meeting in April. A couple of ladies will attend the Devon Federation Spring Council Meeting in Torquay. There will be a lunch later in March.

At the next meeting, on 5th April, the talk is on RNLI Lifeboats. For more information contact Elizabeth Harding on 01297 624250.

HONITON EVENING: This month's speaker was Stuart Raine who gave a fascinating talk on the History of the Music Halls, their popularity in the early 1900s then their decline as years progressed. The talk was illustrated with pictures of music halls around the country, some of which can be found today in different guises. The talk ended with all singing along with Marie Lloyd.

Plans were made for activities scheduled for the year, and walks, book club and crochet arrangements. Many members had been to see Mamma Mia in

theWI

Plymouth and enjoyed the show.

Visitors and new members are always welcome: information on the website 'Honiton

WI' or contact the secretary, Mary Gubby, on 01404 43997 or honiton@devonwi.org.uk

OFFWELL WI is a small (but beautifully formed) group that meets in the Social Club at 7.30 pm on the first Thursday of each month (except for August and December).

August sees a cream tea, to which partners and friends are invited; December has either a Christmas lunch or dinner.

There is usually a speaker or a demonstration of some kind (usually craft, not protest!) and the evening is ended with refreshments. New members can come along as visitors for two meetings initially and will be assured of a very warm welcome.

SEATON WI is moving to a new venue having outgrown their present meeting place. The 2.15pm meeting on Tuesday, April 18th will be held at Crossroad Christian Centre, Homer Lane, EX12 2ES.

This friendly group of ladies meets once a month when there is a guest speaker and refreshments, plus a scrabble group, book club and outings. Visitors and new members welcome. For more information please telephone secretary Margaret Nicholas 01297 792212 or email seatonwi.events@yahoo.co.uk

Plans for new homes off Barnards Hill

A PLANNING application has been submitted for 20 dwellings on land north of Barnards Hill Lane in Seaton.

The application features 25 per cent affordable housing, and has been submitted by Baker Estates, which already has plans for a development at Rowan Drive.

The proposal includes a range of three and four-bedroom semi-detached and detached hed houses and three-bedroom chalet bungalows.

Also included in the plans are five affordable one and two-bedroom homes.

Subject to planning permission, the construction period is estimated to take 12 months.

■ PROPOSAL: An architect's image of the proposed development

■ A CYCLING business has set up shop in Seaton. CycleLife East Devon was officially opened on Friday, March 3rd, with deputy mayor Cllr Jack Rowland, pictured far left, cutting the ribbon. The business relocated after nine years in Axminster and is housed in the new Grove development. Owner Ian Bruton, pictured beside Cllr Rowland, was joined by members of CycleLife East Devon triathlon team, bike manufacturer Raleigh and people from the local business community for the opening ceremony. He said the business had outgrown the premises in Axminster. Mr Bruton praised the Grove development, saying it is beneficial to have a gym upstairs and a bike shop next door. "We are bouncing off each other," he explained.

▲ A JUMBLE sale in The Gateway, organised by the Seaton and Axmouth branch of Cancer Research UK, raised more than £800. The sale was held on Saturday, March 4th and organiser Paula Vickers said: "We took a very pleasing total of £840.44 and are extremely grateful to all of those involved, namely our faithful volunteers and our loyal and generous visitors, without all of whom we would never be able to achieve such rewarding results for the charity. As always, a huge thank you to all."

Laser Therapy

PBM (Photobiomodulation) is the use of laser light over injury and pain. Light, within certain parameters, can regenerate tissue, reduce inflammation and reduce pain. It does this by increasing cellular energy, ATP proteins and reducing oxidative stress. These effects have been tested in over 400 clinical trials (RCT's) and thousands of laboratory studies which are published in many leading journals including The Lancet and BMJ.

Our system stands out from the rest, being the only one of its kind within 100 mile radius. It is the only PBM laser system with FDA, CE, TGA, Health Canada and NATO clearance for proven beneficial effects on tissue repair and pain reduction.

Anti-Gravity Treadmill

We are the only private clinic in the South West and one of only fifteen private clinics in the UK to offer this therapy to the public.

Engineered by NASA, the Anti-Gravity Treadmill 'unweights' the user by as much as 80% in precise 1% increments allowing them to move at a reduced bodyweight. This accurate, safe and comfortable partial weight-bearing therapy promotes normal gait patterns, unlike hydrotherapy, whilst significantly minimising the impact on joints and muscles to aid a smooth recovery. The system provides a safe and pain-free environment for use in physical therapy sessions at any stage of the rehabilitation process.

Gait Analysis

Our system offers analysis of walking and or running over the RS footscan mat. With over 4000 sensors embedded into it we gain in depth analysis of your foot positions, pressure and force distributed during the motion, in both 2D and 3D. The advanced software allows automatic division of the foot into specific regions. This allows force and pressure distribution within these areas to be analysed and associated with certain foot mechanics and functions which may affect the kinetic chain of your gait.

Custom 3D Printed Orthotics

Offering the world's first dynamic 3D printed orthotics as the UK's opening distributor. They are customised to support the every move of an individual from our pressure plate analysis.

It is this 3D print system that gave Paula Radcliffe a come back in 2015 "Without the support of these orthotics, I would have been incapable of recovering this quickly after my operations, this would have probably been the end of my career." 'Paula Radcliffe 2015'

The Fence that repairs itself.

If you scratch or cut Colourfence, the ingenious zinc element in the Zinalume steel reacts with moisture to form a protective barrier to prevent any corrosion with no action needed from you.

STRONG, SECURE & BUILT TO LAST!

AT LAST! The holy grail of fencing transforming gardens across Dorset & South Somerset!

It may do "exactly what it says on the tin" but let's face it, treating a timber fence can never be called fun! In fact, owning a timber fence isn't much fun either with costly, time consuming maintenance and repairs almost every year.

Finally, the alternative to timber fencing.... our fence goes up and stays up, resisting wind gusts of up to 130mph!

Colourfence fencing solutions are made from innovative Colorbond steel, virtually maintenance free with an occasional wash down with water to keep it looking as good as new – so you never need to pick up that paintbrush again!, Guaranteed not to rot, warp, chip or peel for 25 years.

Available in a variety of heights and colours with or without trellis, our skilled installation team will make short work of transforming your garden.

The best news is the pricing is just as attractive, starting costs are in line with comparable traditional systems but offer the ongoing peace of mind you're your investment will continue to save time and money year after year.

For those of us who want a low maintenance garden, Colourfence promises a lifetime of hassle-free enjoyment.

Beautiful performance on Beer Wurlitzer

THE FRIENDS of the Beer Wurlitzer were delighted to welcome the talented and bubbly Elizabeth Harrison to the first show of 2017 on Saturday, March 11th, a show which was hugely enjoyed by the large audience.

Elizabeth had travelled from her farm in Cumbria to present her varied programme of popular music. She was great fun, playing in her unique style with not a piece of sheet music in sight and featuring her favourite sixties tunes. With her cheerful Lancashire humour, Elizabeth is one of the country's favourite performers and she certainly charmed the Beer audience. As well as being a fantastic organist, Elizabeth is a lady of many talents - a farmer, graphic designer, traditional signwriter, HGV driver, as well as being a collector of tractors and Homepride Fred memorabilia.

The next show will be on Saturday 8 April when Andrew Nix will be returning to play his wide repertoire of popular music at the Congregational Church, Fore Street, Beer, EX12 3JQ. Shows start at 2.00pm, admission is £7.00 on the door, children free, and includes interval refreshments. For further information phone 01297 24892 or visit www.beerwurlitzer.org.uk.

Crewkerne Farmers Market

THE MONTHLY Crewkerne Farmers Market is this coming Saturday, March 18th at the new venue by The Henhayes Centre (TA18 8DA near Waitrose and The Aqua Centre), from 9am to 1pm with bread, cakes, apples and seasonal veg, cheese, fish, meat, poultry and eggs and Ed the Potter!

Come along to the Farmers Market on Saturday for quality food and drink, produced and reared in the local area. Spring is in the air and In Clover are back with their stunning display of flowering plants. Bower Hinton will have Curly Kale and Purple Sprouting along with the famous big cauliflowers (and some smaller ones for smaller households!).

Congratulations to West Country Water Buffalo on winning their first star at the national Great Taste Awards as well as a Gold Award from Taste of the West for their Water Buffalo Fillet Steaks.

Another good thing about Farmers Markets is that, apart from knowing the food is fresh, you don't end up with a load of pointless packaging to fill up your black bin!

For Farmers Market dates across Somerset and details of all the producers visit www.somersetfarmersmarkets.co.uk.

Nigel Price Organ Trio & Vasilis Xenopoulos set to play Ilminster Arts Centre

ONE OF Britain's top jazz groups will be lighting up the stage at Ilminster Arts Centre on Friday, March 24th. The Nigel Price Organ Trio was formed in 2002 and has been hard at work ever since, playing hundreds of gigs including ten residencies at Ronnie Scott's jazz club in London. The by-products of the band's incredible work ethic are a cohesive chemistry, an enormous repertoire and a much-coveted Parliamentary Jazz Award for 'best jazz ensemble'.

Their hard work has also been repaid with critical acclaim, with Mojo magazine noting that, "There's an exhilarating tight-loose swing and old-school honesty about Price's brand of soul-bop that leaves you panting". For the Evening Standard, they are quite simply 'Brilliant'. Writing in response to their latest album release (Heads & Tales Vol 2, released November 2016), Observer jazz critic Dave Gelly noted "Price is a dynamic live performer. He's currently touring with his trio, so catch him if you can".

A virtuoso guitarist, Nigel Price recently won the 2016 UK Jazz Awards' Guitarist of the Year and is a regular at Ronnie Scott's. He spent three years with the James Taylor Quartet and has performed with the BBC Big Band, Carleen Anderson and the legendary David Axelrod. His blend of flowing, fiery bebop lines, deep blues feeling and his will to swing hard has made him a big hit with jazz audiences everywhere.

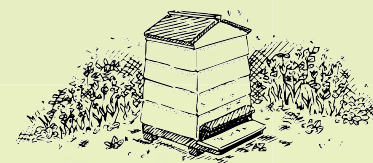

The trio is completed by drummer Steve Brown and Ross Stanley on Hammond organ (Ross is another UK Jazz Award winner, having scooped the top spot in the 'miscellaneous instruments' category), and for this Ilminster gig, they are joined by sax supremo Vasilis Xenopoulos. Originally from Athens but now resident in London, Vasilis has worked with many of the best musicians in the British jazz scene, such as Jim Mullen, Steve Waterman, Alan Barnes, and Ray Gelato.

Tickets are £16 (pre-show supper £14 at 7pm, book in advance), available by calling 01460 54973, or online at www.themeetinghouse.org.uk

Critically acclaimed play about cricketer Colin Milburn comes to the Marine Theatre

FOLLOWING a sell-out tour in November 2016, Dougie Blaxland's critically acclaimed one man show When The Eye Has Gone is coming to The Marine Theatre Lyme Regis as part of a UK National tour on March 15th. Tickets are available from the box office on 01297 442138.

When The Eye Has Gone tells the all too brief life of Colin "Ollie" Milburn - the cricketing legend who was one of England's most unlikely sporting heroes. Full of anecdotes, a thumping soundtrack and a large gin and coke, the story swings backwards and forwards through Milburn's life as he raises a glass to the triumphs, including his first Test Century against the West Indies at Lords in 1966 and the disasters, like losing his left eye in a car accident in 1969.

The extraordinary story of Colin Milburn has all the hallmarks of a Greek tragedy. In 1966 he became a household name, scoring a blistering century against the mighty West Indies in only his second test. He then caused a major sensation playing for Western Australia in the Sheffield Shield smashing 243 against Queensland at Brisbane in an innings described by Don Bradman as "the greatest innings played by an Englishman on Australian soil". This was quickly followed by another glorious century for England against Pakistan in Lahore.

Just a few weeks later, on his triumphant return to England, he lost his left eye in a car crash in Northampton, an injury that effectively ended his career and life prospects. His subsequent decline into alcoholism ended with his death from a heart attack at the age of 48. Ian Botham was one of the pall bearers.

Originally commissioned by The Professional Cricketers' Association for Mind Matters, their mental health awareness programme, When The Eye Has Gone was written by the award-winning playwright Dougie Blaxland, nom de plume of James Graham-Brown, a former Derbyshire and Kent all-rounder and directed by Roughhouse Theatre.

The part of Colin Milburn is played by GSA graduate Dan Gaisford. Dan has worked extensively in TV, film and theatre and his recent credits include Clybourne Park (Mercury Theatre Colchester), Kidnapped (Brassworks Theatre) and Henry Walker and the Wheel of Death (Roughhouse Theatre).

The show comes to the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis on Wednesday, March 8th and Wednesday, March 15th at 8pm. Tickets are £13 and £12 (concessions), available online at www.marinetheatre.com or by calling 01297 442138.

ON THE SHOWBIZ BEAT

It's not all song and dance at the Theatre this week

IN THEATRE, just like in life, it's good to occasionally be taken out of your comfort zone and this is something I've had to learn over the last two years.

Given the choice, my ideal viewing is and always will be an all singing, all dancing musical, but recently my eyes have been opened to a whole world of theatre, which I had no idea could be quite so enthralling.

Like film and television, it's sometimes the darker material, which has more of an impact, so, rather than shows with tap shoes and plenty of vibrato (my preferred theatrical lot), this week has been filled with powerful portrayals and productions I would never normally choose to see.

It's great to experience a full range, but you do need to make sure you're emotionally robust (which I'm not!) before you visit and my delicate state was well and truly tested right at the beginning of the week with a trip to Thomas Hardy School.

I was invited to see the A-Level Drama students perform their examination pieces and although there was a wealth of exceptional talent on display, some of the subject matter, which they had chosen was horrific; boundary pushing in every sense and worryingly thought provoking.

My next theatre trip wasn't much cheerier either as I headed off to Southwark Playhouse to see The Diary of a Teenage Girl. I like to go in cold when it comes to theatre and try not to read too much about shows before my visit and so, I had in my mind that the production was going to be a, kind of, girl's version of Adrian Mole.

How wrong could I be? It turns out very. Although the play is a comedy, it's actually about a girl being sexually abused, so I failed to see the funny side. That said, it was very well done and as a critic, you have to take into consideration the quality of the production, not just your own personal taste when you are reviewing something.

Next on the list was a visit to the Harold Pinter to see Imelda Staunton and co in Who's afraid of Virginia Woolf?. The multi-award winner was absolutely majestic throughout, but I have to admit that I had no idea what was going on for most of play.

I then trooped down to the Old Vic to see Daniel Radcliffe in Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are Dead, which although wordy and at times a little baffling, provided the light relief I had been longing for all week.

All of the plays were extremely well done and kept me on the edge of my seat, but I couldn't help but yearn for a musical to lighten my mood and leave me with a spring in my step.

I will start to scratch my musical theatre itch again very soon however, as I'm about to get back on the stage myself. I'm ecstatic to be joining the cast of Spamalot in Axminster and will start rehearsals in May.

The hilarious musical comedy, based on Monty Python and the Holy Grail will be staged at the Guildhall in September and I'm playing the coveted role of the Lady of the Lake, a part which has been played by the likes of Bonnie Langford and Jodie Prenger, so I'll be sure to ask their advice before I start.

Next week I'm off to see a play called Seventeen at the Lyric Hammersmith which sees a cast of veteran actors take on the role of a group of teenagers-before I get to have a look at the newly reopened Bush Theatre.

I'm then off to see Stepping Out, which stars Amanda Holden and has had a last minute cast change due to Tamsin Outhwaite breaking her foot. Her replacement is a highly acclaimed musical theatre performer called Anna Jane Casey, someone I have a huge amount of admiration for, so I'm actually really pleased I will get to see her. As she is an outstanding dancer, I'm hoping her twinkle toes will help to 'Tap my troubles away'.

The key to finding your perfect home

GUINNESS BEER CASTLE

ONE of Ireland's most historic homes is for sale. Celebrate St. Patrick's Day and 'drown the shamrock' at the Guinness Beer Castle that has reigned over the rolling emerald hills of Ireland near Dublin since the 18th century. In recent history, the castle housed Guinness-beer heiress Oonagh, Lady Oranmore and Browne, one of the three "golden Guinness girls," who entertained lavishly and whose guests have included the Rolling Stones, Anjelica Huston (who grew up next-door), Lucian Freud, and U2's Bono.

Dublin's most famous export, Guinness beer, first arrived in the United States on the shore of North Carolina in 1817 under the direction of Arthur Guinness II, first heir to the company. The dark ale, known as stout, became an instant hit as it spread its delicious exports around the world. Today, offering eleven distinct varieties, thousands of bottles will be consumed on St. Patrick's Day, a one-day break from Lent, after sixteen days of building up a powerful thirst. Though to many Americans, St. Patrick's Day has evolved into green beer and a drinking free-for-all, if you're heading to Dublin to celebrate and take a tour of the Guinness castle, be forewarned that you'll probably be doing it with other tourists in the Guinness' Temple Bar neighborhood because when the parade is over most of the locals head home to a nice dinner and an evening of calm entertainment.

The castle, named Luggala, is on 5,000 acres and lies within its original 18th-century gardens surrounded by old Irish oaks, emerald lawns, heather and wildflowers overlooking the dark blue water of Lough (Lake) Tay. Though not of massive proportions and tall spires, Luggala, a former hunting lodge, is comprised of 19,099 square feet of living space with a total of 27 bedrooms and 18 full baths. With its low-lying crenellated roofline, the whitewashed structure makes a striking statement against the dark-wooded backdrop. Leaning toward Gothic style, it is awash with little battlements, crochets, trefoil and quatrefoil windows and ogee mantelpieces throughout. Structures on the property include the main house with seven bedrooms, dining room, large entrance hall, three main reception rooms and library, a four-bedroom guest house and another 17 bedrooms between seven lodges and cottages within the estate. A fascinating story of the estate's history can be found in "Luggala Days: The Story of a Guinness House" by Robert O'Byrne, who tells that it was once called "the most decorative honey pot in Ireland" and elaborates on its scandals and intrigues.

Now for sale, the 18th-century castle that beer bought and was always known as a house of great welcome and happiness, according to historians, is priced at $29.5 million or about 28 million euros.

ZOE e-sport concept: Renault's electric car races ahead

THE Renault ZOE e-sport concept car revealed at the 2017 Geneva Motor Show showcases Renault's commitment to the ongoing development of electric vehicles.

Based on the all-electric ZOE's supermini platform, ZOE e-sport concept draws on Groupe Renault's three years of success in the FIA Formula E Championship. This all-electric single-seater series, fought on challenging street circuits around the world, has proved a popular and accessible way for the public to enjoy high-performance electric racing.

The two-seater ZOE e-sport concept echoes the styling of the latest Renault single-seater race cars, and its colour scheme reflects the livery of the e.dams team. The lightweight body structure is made of carbon fibre, and the car tips the scales at just 1,400kg, including the battery (450kg). This minimal weight in addition to excellent aerodynamics, power close to 460bhp and torque of 640Nm, helps the car to accelerate from standstill to 62mph in 3.2 seconds.

"The brief for the Renault ZOE e-sport concept couldn't have been simpler: 'Have fun!'. So we came up with something midway between a production model and a racing car... It's perfect for lovers of extreme driving sensations!" Stéphane

Janin, Director, Concept Car Design

"At Renault, we believe that electric cars are capable of addressing the needs of all types of customers, with the emphasis on driving enjoyment... The Renault ZOE e-sport concept is a stunning expression of this!" Eric Feunteun, Director, Electric Vehicle Programme

Renault launched a full range of EVs in 2012 and continues to stand out as the market leader today. The brand continues to explore every facet of electric motoring thanks to a programme spearheaded by the ZOE.

The Renault ZOE is an all-electric car that delivers a smooth, agile ride. Uniquely enjoyable to drive, it is built to the highest environmental standards.

The New Renault ZOE premiered at the 2016 Paris Motor Show and marks an important step in the development of mass-market electric vehicles. Its driving range is 250 miles (NEDC), equivalent to real-world range of around 186 miles in summer and 124 miles in winter. The New Z.E.40 battery takes the worry out of charging the car while opening up a wider spectrum of journey options. The New ZOE also comes with a new, improved suite of connected services to make electric motoring easier, including Z.E. Trip and Z.E. Pass.

ZOE supermini offers unrivalled range

The ZOE supermini is now available with a high-energy-density Z.E. 40 battery, and this large storage capacity converts directly into an extended range of 250 miles (NEDC). This translates to a real-world range of 186 miles in summer and 124 miles in cold winter conditions.

When fitted with the Z.E. 40 battery, the ZOE boasts the longest driving range of any mass-market fully electric car, yet it is still the market's most affordable electric car. Orders have risen by nearly 40 per cent in Europe since the new version was released in October 2016.

Since 2015, the ZOE has been fitted with an all-Renault motor that combines outstanding efficiency with optimal electronic battery management, which restricts the level of electricity consumption on the move without reducing power.

Driving a Renault electric vehicle is punchy, smooth and reassuring. The all-electric ZOE delivers all these sensations thanks the brand's EV technology and to management of the delivery of power to the wheels, geared toward driving enjoyment. The ZOE takes a fresh approach to electric mobility by ensuring a dynamic, noise- and vibrations-free experience, with no gearshifts required, and it emits no carbon dioxide or other regulated pollutants during road use.

The ZOE delivers its full potential instantly in the form of crisp, jar-free pull-away and mid-range acceleration performance. High torque is available from very low revs. The R90 motor delivers peak torque of 225Nm in a fraction of a second, allowing the ZOE to accelerate from rest to 31mph (50kph) – the most frequently used range when motoring in built-up areas – in just four seconds.

Being able to pull away swiftly from traffic lights, along with slick manoeuvring in slow-moving traffic and safe overtaking are all facilitated by the ZOE's immediate response.

The ZOE makes range anxiety a concern of the past. In addition to routine daily journeys, this extended range means the ZOE can also be used for longer trips

Nissan unveils premium new Micra Bose® Personal® Edition at Geneva Motor Show

A PREMIUM new limited edition of the all-new Nissan Micra has been unveiled at the Geneva Motor Show.

The BOSE Personal Edition is based on the range-topping Tekna grade, but comes with a number of extras and personalisation features as standard. Offering exceptional value for money, only 3,000 examples will be available across Europe.

As the car's name suggests, its specification has been created to celebrate Nissan's collaboration with BOSE, premium audio partner on the all-new Micra. It comes with the unique-to-Micra BOSE Personal sound system, with twin BOSE UltraNearfield™ speakers built into the driver's seat head rest. This innovative design, combined with BOSE signal processing, provides a spacious and immersive 360° listening experience for the driver.

The sound can also be personalised to suit the driver's tastes with the help of the BOSE PersonalSpace Control feature built into the Micra's audio settings. It provides an adjustable range of options, from a precise and front-focused sound to a much wider and enveloping experience.

Marc Mansell, Vice President, BOSE Automotive Systems, commented: "We engineered the BOSE Personal sound system to deliver unexpectedly big sound from a limited number of components. Using just six high-performance speakers and our latest signal processing technology, the system rewards Micra owners with a superior, fully-customisable audio experience unlike anything else available today."

The Nissan Micra BOSE Personal Edition is available in one of two vibrant exterior colours – Enigma Black or Gunmetal Grey – and each is enhanced with Energy Orange elements from the Micra's personalisation program. Stylish orange finishers are fitted to the front and rear bumper, doors, door mirrors and 17-inch alloy wheels. All are added by hand in the factory – in Flins, France – for a guaranteed high-quality finish.

Full LED headlamps create a striking night-time signature for the car, as well as exceptional visibility for improved road safety. The finishing touches to the exterior are the high-quality anodised black and orange stickers on the roof and bonnet, plus unique BOSE Personal badging on the Micra's B-pillars.

Personalisation is also a key part of the car's interior appeal. Soft-touch, double-stitched Energy Orange material has been used to enhance the look of the dashboard and gear surround, while there's matching detailing on the seats, floor mats and door sills.

As it's based on Tekna trim, the Micra BOSE Personal Edition already has a high level of standard equipment. This includes the NissanConnect infotainment system with DAB digital radio and satellite navigation, Nissan Intelligent Key and an arm rest between the front seats.

It also comes with the Safety Pack as standard, which includes Intelligent Emergency Braking with Pedestrian Recognition, Traffic Sign Assist, Intelligent Lane Intervention – a technology which smoothly guides the car back to the centre of a lane – is also fitted.

Intelligent Around View Monitor – Nissan's innovative parking camera system – plus Idle Stop&Start, heated front seats and a spare wheel are all on the options list.

To maximise customer choice, the Nissan Micra BOSE Personal Edition is available with either the 0.9-litre 90 PS three-cylinder downsized turbo petrol engine or the 1.5-litre 90 PS turbodiesel. It will go on sale this summer.

Mitsubishi Outlander PHEV drives record Mitsubishi Motors used sales

STRONG demand for the Mitsubishi Outlander PHEV has seen Mitsubishi Motors in the UK notch up two consecutive months of record sales of pre-owned internal fleet vehicles.

Of the 717 pre-owned vehicles that Mitsubishi dealers have bought directly from the manufacturer's UK division since the start of the year, nearly 45 per cent were the Mitsubishi Outlander PHEV, highlighting the unwavering popularity of the UK's best-selling Plug-in Hybrid Electric vehicle.

Such is the demand for pre-owned examples of the versatile all-wheel drive SUV, that 2017 YTD sales figures of used internal fleet vehicles represent an increase of over 43 per cent compared to the same period in 2016.

In addition to more and more motorists appreciating the significant benefits of plug-in hybrid electric vehicles, the sales growth has been driven by Mitsubishi Motors in the UK's focus on making its pre-owned vehicles even more appealing to retail customers, as well as the continued expansion of its dealer network.

Mitsubishi has recently introduced an enhanced, industry-leading Approved Used Programme and a strong 5.9% APR PCP* offer that allows drivers to own a pre-owned 2016 Outlander PHEV GX4H for £299 per month, plus deposit and final payment.

The Mitsubishi Outlander PHEV offers the best pure EV range of any of its direct competitors, has the lowest emissions of any all-wheel drive vehicle and remains amongst the lowest-emitting vehicles in the plug-in hybrid segment. It is also the only AWD vehicle to utilise electric power to drive both front and rear wheels for superior traction both on and off the road even in pure electric mode. It is also the only Plug-in Hybrid Electric Vehicle to offer rapid charging (up to 80% in approximately 25 minutes) and five-mode adjustable regenerative braking, which is controlled via the steering wheel paddles to further enhance the driving experience.

*PCP finance offer is available until March 29 2017 at participating dealerships and is subject to eligibility. Terms and conditions apply. More details, including information on Mitsubishi Motors' other finance offers, are available at www.mitsubishi-cars.co.uk/finance.

Exwick Villa 1
Axminster Town 2
SW Peninsula Div One (E)
VICTORY at Lowly Exwick Villa sees Axminster Town reinforce their fifth place position in the SW Peninsula League Division One table and ultimately coincided with interim boss Jon Hurford being offered the job on a full time basis.

After a scrappy opening quarter of the match The Tigers, missing unavailable trio Sam Dibling, Luke Finna and keeper Scott Wells-Burr, took the lead when Aaron Daniels finished well with the outside of his boot for his fourth goal in three matches.

The lead was doubled on the stroke of half time when striker Jamie Barfoot got on the end of a cross and finished well.

Danny Clay went close to adding a third only to be denied by an horrendous bobbie on the far from ideal surface.

At the other end Brett Garner, standing in for Wells-Burr, pulled off a couple of fine stops but hopes of a first clean sheet in 16 matches ended 20 minutes from time when Garner saved well but Chris Clarke was on-hand to nod in the rebound.

A pleased Hurford told Pulman's Sport: "We knew it would be a tough game, they are scrapping away and their narrow pitch is always a test. We felt that once we broke them down we would go on and win the match. Neither side was really on top throughout the match, it was that sort of game."

Of his goal scorers the new Tigers boss said: "Aaron continues to go from strength-to-strength, he's really come on this season and I was pleased for Barf he was our Man of the Match and did everything we asked for him up top, he held the ball up well with his back to goal and this enabled the rest of the team to link higher up the pitch."

"They [Exwick] came at us strongly late on but we did the basics in clearing our lines and saw out the win."

Things could be tougher for the Tigers next Saturday when they head off to take on title chasing Brixham AFC with Hurford likely to name himself on the bench.

Heavitree United 4
Beer Albion 3
Devon & Exeter Premier
BEER Albion were pipped by Heavitree United in a tense, bruising seven-goal thriller at Wingfield Park on Saturday writes Richard Honnor.

The condition of the playing surface was abysmal - it was cut-up, uneven and grassless in places - and contributed to mistakes on both sides. But it did make for an exciting spectacle with Heavies dominating the possession but with Beer always looking dangerous on the counter.

From the outset Heavitree imposed themselves and the Beer defence, missing centre back Andrew Foster, were regularly brushed aside by their strong running opponents.

The Heavies should have been two goals up within five minutes but two chances were squandered from close range after poor marking.

The hosts took the lead on 24 minutes with a Jordan Harris header from a corner which was deflected in off the post by Beer full back Josh Moughton as he tried to clear his lines.

It would have been 2-0 two minutes later but for a flying save by keeper Mark Rooke after the Heavies had once again cut through Beer's defence.

But Beer equalised on the half hour when midfielder Pedro Fontes started a move deep in his own half before an interchange of passes between Simon Smith and Walker ended with Smith providing a clinical finish from 12 yards.

The Fishermen almost went ahead on 40 minutes when Walker crossed to Fontes whose shot was cleared off the line with the keeper beaten.

But with half-time approaching Heavitree went 2-1 ahead when a long pass out of defence found Harris who beat Rooke with a low shot from 18 yards.

Beer were gifted an equaliser within a minute of the restart when Walker was brought down in the box and Smith converted the resulting penalty.

But on 52 minutes Heavitree again edged in front through a bizarre own goal from Shaun Denslow who, in an attempt to clear a low cross, half-volleyed into his own net.

But the plucky Fishermen would not lie down. On 62 minutes, they levelled at 3-3 when, after fine work from MoM Walker split the Heavies wide open and Fontes slammed the ball home from six yards.

Good chances came and went at both ends, but Heavitree clinched the points three minutes from time when Matt Byrne hit an unstoppable shot from way out that flew into the top corner. This was hard on the Fishermen whose battling performance deserved a point.

Next Saturday, Beer entertain struggling Hatherleigh Town at the Furzebrake (3pm ko), the match sponsor is Beer Ball Albion.

THIS game was rather lacklustre with both sides making elementary mistakes all over the field for the first 35 minutes writes Dick Sturch.

It was then that the game provided some purpose when Nathan Wormesley's shot was tipped over and from the resulting Sam Turner corner Shane Featherstone's powerful header gave the visitors a slender lead at half time.

Five minutes after the restart the home side were level from a 20-yard free kick that gave stand in keeper Matt Lewis no chance.

A few minutes later the Generals split Millway's defence and took the lead only for Wormesley to stab home the equaliser two minutes later.

Millway began making far more inroads into their opponents half. Featherstone struck the crossbar from distance and Alex Rocket's strike from even further out was brilliantly saved by the home keeper.

Continuous Millway pressure was eventually undone in the final minutes when Rocket was adjudged to have handled from a shot, which no way he could have evaded. This provided O'Brien the chance to secure the winner from the spot.

Turner, Rocket and Zak Meaker were all prominent for Rise while Lewis in goal could not be faulted for the goals.

In their penultimate game of the season Millway missed a hosts of chances and felt they had thrown two points away.

The visitors didn't have one shot on home goal throughout the match.

It did give the home side another clean sheet but they still need to win in the return fixture next week to guarantee a third place finish.

Leon Finbow, Dave Bridges and Henry Alexander Mitchell were the Millway stars.

D&E Round-up with Collin Goodwin & Howard Larcombe

HONITON TOWN struck a massive blow in their quest their first ever Premier title when they demolished their nearest rivals NEWTOWN 4-0 on their own turf.

Braces from Tim Genders and Aiden Barrett did the job for the Hippos, and they will be full of confidence when the pair meet again in the reverse this Saturday.

Third placed ELMORE kept up the chase with a 6-3 victory at reigning champions TOPSHAM TOWN.

OKEHAMPTON ARGYLE took their winning streak to 10 with a 5-3 win against FENITON. Mark Simic, Ben Allen and Louis Hilton scored for Fenny.

SEATON TOWN were 3-0 winners at EXMOUTH AMATEURS with Jacob Rowe, Kyle Freeman and Josh French (pen) on target.

HENRY'S CRONIES are through to the Firewatch Devon Senior cup final after knocking out the holders EXETER UNIVERSITY RES 4-1.

The semi was switched to the college ground after last week's abandonment, but this time the Cronies made sure with Liam Carey (2), Matt Fanson and Billy Rouse scoring.

Cronies were also hoping to be crowned Division One champions had WELLINGTON TOWN RES managed to take points off WITHERIDGE RES, but the mid-Devon side kept them waiting with a 4-0 victory.

SIDMOUTH TOWN RES moved into second place after winning 3-1 at COLYTON whose consolation came from Callum Somers, and LYME REGIS beat ALPHINGTON RES 3-2 to keep their hopes of a top three slot alive. Dom Rowe, Rob Fellingham and Dec Ellis won it for Lyme who played the last half with 10-men after Fellingham was red-carded for handball on the line.

The LYME REGIS RESERVES were also celebrating after beating STOKE HILL 2-1 to reach their first ever Football Express cup final. Ryan Fifer and Mark Batey scored for the Seaside's who also peppered the woodwork.

UPOTTERY RES are through to the Geary cup final thanks to a 1-0 win against ILMINSTER TOWN RES.

PERRY STREET underlined their claim towards the Division Three crown as they stormed to a 9-0 win against CLYST VALLEY.

Their closest rivals EXETER UNIVERSITY and BAMPPTON both won but AXMINSTER TOWN suffered a setback as they crashed 5-3 a home to NEWTON POPPLEFORD where Gary Spiller (2) and Brad-Lee Miller bagged the consolations.

CREDITON UNITED made up a little ground on leaders ROYAL OAK in Division Five with a 4-2 win at BEER ALBION, as did WINCHESTER but they had a far harder task to shade NORTH TAWTON 5-4.

CRANBROOK kept alive their slim hopes of winning the Division Seven title after a 3-2 win at SEATON TOWN. Karl Suggs scored twice.

Finally, Pete Smith scored the consolation as AXMINSTER TOWN 3rds were thrashed 6-1 at BRAVEHEARTS' in Division Eight.

Axe Cliff seniors battle back

CRICKET ST THOMAS

with Bert Robinson

THE FORTY four seniors took part in the Canadian Greensome competition last Monday when a combination of light rain and slow greens took its toll on the scoring.

Result: 1st Keith Branchflower & John Pearce 61.625, 2nd Roger Stone & Stuart Forbes 63.875, 3rd Martyn Bargery & Richard Forster 67.500.

The weather conditions on Wednesday caused the postponement of the seventh round of the winter league programme.

On Friday, the Seniors committee combined with the rest of the seniors in a three-man Texas scramble.

Twelve teams of three were formed with a committee member included in each team.

Result: 1st Ted Bryden; Ian Fielder & Bob Hollingsworth 60.5, 2nd Barrie Heath; Ian Griffiths & George Wallace 61.0, 3rd Maurice Arnold; Bert Robinson & Bill Hilson 61.67.

AXE CLIFF

with Peter Motson

THE Ladies section played their third County Prize Stableford competition last Wednesday when the weather was not great - especially on the back nine when a very eerie black swirl of mist, cloud and rain appeared from nowhere.

The scores however were good, in first was Jo Donmall with 33pts, second was Helen Kenworthy (32) and in third was Stella Thompson (31).

The Seniors' match against Cricket St Thomas was played at Axe Cliff when, despite losing the first two pairings, the team rallied and ran out winners 3.5 points to 2.5 points.

Leighton Morgan & David Evans continued their good run of success with a fine 2&1 win; Malcolm Reynolds & Adrian Bishop came from behind to win the last hole and halve their match. Chris Walker & John Ashbolt comfortably won their game 2up.

But the stars were Gerry Turner & Brian Thompson who won a very close game 2&1. Brian is quite a new member to the Seniors Section and is going to be an excellent team member playing off a handicap of 12.

The Seniors also played a mixed match against the Ladies when captain Jo Donmall and Dave Bruce decided to test everyone with an American Greensomes format.

This is a popular game with both golfers teeing off before swapping balls for their second shot. After the second shot the pairing chooses which ball to continue playing and alternate strokes for the hole.

Gilbert Cox, relying heavily on his partner Barbara Cummings, managed to take third prize with 28 points closely followed with 29 points by Malcolm Reynolds & Sandra Walker who was in fine putting form leaving Malcolm to concentrate on his chipping.

The winners were John Pugh, still carrying his 10 clubs, and Margaret Kenchington who was the star.

They managed 31 points which is good going as only 15 holes were played. Malcolm Glass & Jo Donmall scored the only two of the event.

HONITON with John Pawley

THE weather has featured greatly in affecting golf opportunities this past week.

Right up till the latter part of January we were congratulating ourselves on our lack of missed days golf.

Having played off grass tees all the winter, and rarely having to use temporary greens, the recent occasions where days have been lost due to rain and fog seem all that more frustrating.

The competition this week for the Tuesday Mixed was 'Four Clubs and a Putter'.

The wet conditions and restricted number of clubs meant it was no surprise that the scores were lower than usual. In first place with 31 points were Stephani & Bob Barnes with Maureen Tollemache & Mike Delaney second with 30. Next, on count-back, were Sue Kelson & Ron Graham from Janet Hughes 7 James Liell (both with 28) in fourth.

Well over 60 Seniors played the course on Friday when the competition was changed from a 3BBB to a Stableford and Eclectic - to accommodate another Eclectic round.

Top of Division One was Dave Morgan with 37 points - and he can now rest for many weeks, as he recovers from a knee op very soon. Ron Graham came second with 35, with Peter Clarke and Pat Purtell third and fourth with 34.

Division Two was won by Bob Underwood with 37 and he was followed by ex-Padbrook Park recruit Nick Mitchell ahead of George Smith - both 35. Fourth, and still with 35 was Mike Jones.

In the ball sweep for 2s, there were two members who benefited - David Scott on the 12th and Peter Clarke on the second each winning 21 balls.

Vital win in bid to beat drop

Chard Ladies 4 Taunton Vale 3rds 3

CHARD Ladies came from behind to beat top of the league Taunton Vale 3rds at Holyrood School on Saturday.

Vale took the lead only for Chard to equalise when Rachel Ireland-Jones burst through the centre of midfield and slotted the ball to Ruth Butcher who made no mistake in firing into the bottom corner.

But the visitors regained the lead early in the second half with a strike from the edge of D.

Back came Chard and Ireland-Jones and Butcher linked again and the latter scored her second of the match to make it 2-2.

However, a string of short corners eventually led to Taunton taking the lead for the third time in the match only for Butcher to complete her hat trick after more good work from Ireland-Jones.

The winner came when defender Lorraine Szczepanski, found Player-of-the-Match Butcher who hammered the ball into the net to put Chard ahead for the first time and they held on to clinch the win ahead of next weekend's visit by Burnham-on-Sea for another must-win game in their bid to avoid relegation.

One-two for local duo in 30th Grizzly

Axe Valley Runners with Dave Mutter

A VERY tough race that made you tingle! that was the verdict on the nearly 20-mile 30th Grizzly subtitled "Pearl's a Stinger"

There was great celebration for host club when 18-year-old Jake Smith powered home to become the first ever AVR winner in 2:20:06.

At Branscombe mouth on the way out Jake was second, but on returning to that point had built a substantial lead which he held onto until the finish.

You knew you were in for a gloopy time when running down the hill into Branscombe the normally benign hill was just a sea of mud.

As usual there were plenty of runners tying ribbons on a specially constructed memorial on Branscombe beach with a pause to remember special people in their lives no longer with us.

Wayne Loveridge of Chard RR was 2nd while Elizabeth Dyson of Haldon Trail Runners was the ladies winner, 8th overall in a superb 2:32:23.

There were 1,555 finishers in the Grizzly - the other AVR results: Tim Lenton 7th, 2:30:02; Patrick Devine Wright 8th, 2:31:13; Terry Emmett 34th, 2:45:58; James Green 46th, 2:50:23; Laurence Edgeley 81st, 2:58:02; Matthew Hewer 86th, 2:58:52; Rupert Pady 98th, 2:59:22; Karl Hodson 140th, 3:06:17; Clare Hansford 160th, 3:09:49; Murat James Guler 214th, 3:17:10; Patrick Kinsella 245th, 3:19:32; Eleanor Wood 305th, 3:26:05; Simon Davey 373rd, 3:30:57; Richard

Big win in local derby clash

Chard 38 Bridgwater 5 South West One

CONSIDERING the league positions of each side this was a stunning win for a depleted Chard against their local rivals.

After 17 minutes Chard put Bridgwater under pressure in their own 22m area when some poor handling allowed the visitors to make a timely interception close to their own line which ended with a try for Stuart Heal who missed the resulting conversion.

Chard were strong up front but their lineout play was hit and miss and this prevented them from making use of the territorial advantage gained.

They had a let off when what appeared to be a perfectly good second try for Bridgwater was disallowed by the unsighted referee.

From this point things changed dramatically and Chard deservedly went ahead with a try from Taalib Johnson which was converted by Oesman.

Shortly before half time Johnson scored his second try when his blistering pace won the chase for the touchdown following a splendid kick ahead and Chard led 12-5 at the turnaround.

Chard made numerous handling errors early in the second half but did look really dangerous when they did manage to hang on to the ball.

The hosts had to make a few changes through injury including skipper Ryan Helliard, but despite this they remained well on top.

Winger Matt Tinley dropped a certain try scoring pass but minutes later made amends when he got the touchdown after finishing off a stunning counterattack from deep inside their own half and Oesman added the conversion points.

Chard were now on a roll and before long had the bonus point try their performance deserved when Johnson crossed for try number four which he converted himself to put Chard well clear.

Further tries came in the final ten minutes with Siljeur and Johnson going over for tries five and six. Oesman converted both to complete a good day with the boot.

Away from the points scorers, flanker

Jason Wright had another great game but special mention must go to the two young props, Ben Mainwaring and Liam Mustchin, who at 20 and 19 respectively have come into the side recently following season ending injuries to Luke Aplin and Dave Biss and both are showing huge potential.

Chard have no fixture next weekend but the clubhouse will be open for England v Ireland on the big screen in what could be a grand slam winning performance.

New boss confirmed

AXMINSTER Town have appointed Jon Hurford as their new manager.

Club stalwart Hurford, who won his second successive league game as interim manager on Saturday, is sure to be a popular choice with the Tiger Way faithful having donned the amber shirt with distinction for many seasons. "The playing committee all agreed that we felt he is ready to make the step up - he has the club in his blood," said Club chairman Ray Self.

Self confirmed that the offer was made to Hurford on Saturday evening after Saturday's 2-1 win at Exwick Villa. "We'd made the decision before the match so the result had no bearing. Putting Jon in place now gives him more time to get things in place as he wants them for the start of next season.

"It's essential he gets a good assistant in place to help out as I think he still has much to offer on the pitch."

Hurford, who had Craig Rice alongside him on Saturday, is understood to be sounding out his options for an assistant manager.

"I'm really pleased and excited to accept the offer from the club. The players have played with confidence and increased belief over the last couple of games, their attitude has been spot on.

Paul lifts Granddad's shield

MUSBURY Short Mat Bowls Club recently held a Charity Tournament in memory of Ted Soper, the father of club Chairman, Christine Pomeroy at the Village Hall.

The competition was won by Ted Soper's grandson, Paul, who beat Adam Dredge in the final. The Proceeds from donations and a raffle of £260 will go to Breast Cancer Research.

Club member Kay Short said: "It was a memorable evening for many reasons not least because everyone was wearing the club's new polo shirts for the first time.

"Our teams are doing well in their leagues. If anyone would like to visit us on a Friday evening in Musbury Village Hall with a view to joining us, you will receive a warm and friendly welcome."
